Wings of a Dove

Choral music of the German Romantics

Saturday 26th March 2011

7.30 pm

St John's Church, Mattock Lane, Ealing, W13 9LA

Soaring, sobbing melodies, heart-wrenching harmonies, and lively gypsy dances are all woven together to give an evening of wide musical experience from the great German choral composers of the 19th century.

Mendelssohn's evergreen O, for the Wings of a Dove contrasts with Brahms' deeply intellectual Geistliche Lied and sublime Song of Destiny; Beethoven's outburst of joy, the Hallelujah Chorus from Christus am Ölberge, coupled with Schumann's Zigeunerleben, offset the underlying sweet sorrow of Rheinberger's Stabat Mater.
